Produced by: Randy Kohrs and Blue Moon Rising

“With their newest album, Blue Moon Rising is taking bluegrass in a fresh new direction while preserving the tradition that makes it great. That they love what they're doing is obvious. That they are an exceptionally talented bunch of guys with a vision for great bluegrass makes STRANGE NEW WORLD one of the best CDs I've heard all year.”

Kyle Cantrell, Sirius-XM Radio

“Their fifth album, Strange New World is the band’s debut on the Rural Rhythm record label. It demonstrates how the Blue Moon Rising sound continues to evolve around the compelling vocals and strong guitar work of Chris West...”

“As time goes on and things change (as they always do), the vision of Blue Moon Rising has remained steadfast: Play quality, innovative bluegrass, with a depth and commitment seldom found. Bluegrass bands everywhere could (and should) learn from them. Their fans already know that these guys will always ‘deliver the goods’ when it comes to great music.”

Kyle Cantrell, Sirius-XM Radio

“One could easily say that Blue Moon Rising has now risen! This lively Tennessee-based group formed over a decade ago, and they have worked hard appearing at noteworthy festivals and venues, touring and recording.
